The Daily Gazetteer.

TUESDAY, APRIL 12 1737.

No. 560.

The Ship-News which hitherto has been inſerted in the DAILY JOURNAL, will for the future be continued in this Paper.

Yeſterday arrived a Mail from Holland.

THEY write from Rome, That on the 12th ult. O. S. a Fire broke out there, at the Houſe of a rich Pewterer, near the Church of our Lady in Tears, the Flames of which ſpread with ſuch Fury to the neighbouring Palace of the Prince of Santa Croce, that the Perſons who inhabited it, had ſcarce Time to ſave their Lives; for the whole Palace was reduc'd to Aſhes, and the Damage is ſaid to amount to above 60,000 Scudi.

The Inſtructions ſent from Naples to King Don Carlos's Miniſter at Rome, relating to the Extent of his Majeſty's Juriſdiction, and upon which the ſaid Miniſter has preſented a Memorial to that Court, conſiſt chiefly of the following Points; viz. That his Majeſty pretends to the Right of nominating to the Biſhopricks and other Benefices of the Kingdom, that happen to become vacant: That all the Legacies left to Pious Foundations be brought to the Treaſury: and that a certain Number be appointed, both of Secular and Regular Clergy, as well as of Nuns of all the Societies in Naples, who may be allow'd to enjoy thoſe Franchiſes of which all the others ſhall be deprived.

The Million and half of Pieces of Eight, which the Queen of Spain lately ſent her Son, was to redeem ſome Annuities, and Feodal Revenues, which were alienated under the late Government.

The following is printed in the Foreign Papers, as the Anſwer of his Britannick Majeſty, to the Letter which was written to him by the King of the Two Sicilies, notifying his Acceſſion to the Crown.

SIR, my Brother,

'TWAS with very great Pleaſure that I receiv'd 'your Letter, acquainting me of your Acceſſion to the Throne of the Two Sicilies. As I 'am on all Occaſions very much intereſted in what 'relates to you, I queſtion not but you are perſwaded 'of the ſincere Joy I feel upon this happy Event. 'You may be aſſured that I ſhall always be ready to 'give you Proofs of my Affection, and to keep up a 'good Correſpondence and perfect Friendſhip with 'you, being with great Truth, SIR, my Brother,

Your Good Brother,

GEORGE, R.

The King of Great Britain having been pleaſed to intereſt himſelf for the Accommodation of the late Diſputes that have ariſen in the Republick of Geneva, all the Papers relating to that Affair have been tranſmitted to his Grace the Duke of Newcaſtle, one of his Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State. The Deputies who were ſent by the Regency to Chamberry, to compliment the King and Queen of Sardinia, returned home with high Satisfaction for the gracious Reception that was given them by their Sardinian Majeſties. The King in his Anſwer to their Congratulations, ſeveral Times made uſe of the Term Republick, which was never uſed by the late King Victor Amedeus. His ſaid Majeſty aſſured them, 'That he 'was very ſenſible of the Regard which the Republick 'of Geneva had for him, and of the Share which 'they bore in his Joy: That he ſhould be always 'glad of an Opportunity to give it Marks of his Affection and Good Will, and that he hoped the 'Republick would be anſwerable on their Part, by 'their Care to keep up a good Neighbourhood.

If the Account of the Tartars late Expedition to the Ukraine, brought to Vienna by the Courier from Petersburg, be true, the Tartars, formerly ſo warlike and enterpriſing a Nation, are become the moſt cowardly and daſtardly People upon Earth, or elſe the Rear Guard of an Army of near 100,000 Men would not have been beat by 300 Dragoons.

They entertain great Hopes at Hanover, according to Letters from London and Berlin, that Means will be found for ſpeedily accommodating the Diſpute between the Kings of Great Britain and Pruſſia, for the Admiſſion of the Baron de Borck, his Pruſſian Majeſty's Miniſter to the Court of England.

The States of the Electorate of Saxony aſſembled at Dreſden, have preſented a Petition to the King, wherein among other Things they form a Demand, the Execution of which may happen to prove fatal to the Jews that are ſettled in Saxony.

The Court of Vienna has lately made a Contract with ſome Perſons, who have engaged to advance 5 Millions and half to the Imperial Cheſt; and as the War with the Turks is unavoidable, they talk of raiſing ſtill greater Sums.

The Count Olivier de Wallis, General of the Ordnance, will ſhortly be declared Governor of Servia.

They write from Presbourg, that the General Schmettau is better than he was, but not quite out of Danger.

According to Letters from Lisbon of the 11th ult. O. S. the Portugueſe Court has received an Expreſs from Paris, with Letters the more agreeable to that Court, becauſe they not only bring an Account of the Concluſion of the Accommodation with the Court of Spain, but have alſo brought over a Scheme for removing the Difficulties that have ſo long ſubſiſted with the Court of France, on account of the Ceremonial. The Letters add, that his Portugueſe Majeſty has approved of the ſaid Scheme, and did thereupon intend to give Orders to Don Lewis D'Acunha to take on him the Character of his Ambaſſador at the Court of France, which will likewiſe ſend an Ambaſſador to the Court of Lisbon. They tell us, that a certain Prieſt, a Native of Monfavaz in the Diſtrict of Olivenca, died there lately, aged above 120: And from Paris, that one Doux, who wrought Journey-work, died lately in the Pariſh of St. Martin de Brajaucourt in Normandy, 111 Years of Age, and that he left a Wife ſurviving him who is 105.

The Letters from Paris ſay, that the Chevalier de Mouhy, Author of the Payſanne Parvenue, and ſeveral other Pieces of Gallantry that have been well received by the Publick, is actually preparing a Work for the Preſs, which is to be intitled, A Thouſand and One Favours; French Tales. His Model in great Meaſure, will be the Piece intitled, A Thouſand and One Nights.

Some People think the Archbiſhop of Paris will go near to have one of the 5 Red Hats vacant in the College of Cardinals: It will not be long ere we ſhall hear what Subjects will be nominated for the Vacancies by the Powers concerned to propoſe them. Mean time we are aſſured, that the two Kings of Poland will each name one, and that the Primate of that Republick will certainly be one.

Among a Thouſand Compliments and Harangues made to King Staniſlaus in Lorain, particular Notice is taken of one, wherein the Orator tells him, That he will reign in the Hearts of a People, who for ſeven Centuries were always Loyal to their Sovereigns.

Advertisement concerning this Book.

This Masterpiece of religious Policy was published, many Years since, in Latin, French, and Dutch: Mr. John Schipper, a Bookseller at Amsterdam, bought one of them at Antwerp, among other Books, and afterwards reprinted it. The Jesuits, being informed that he had purchased this Book, demanded it back from him; but he had then sent it to Holland. One of the Society, who lived at Amsterdam, hearing it said, soon after, to a Catholick Bookseller, by Name Van Eyte, that Schipper was printing a Book which concerned the Jesuits, replied, that if it was only The Rules of the Society, he should not be under any Concern; but desired he would inform himself what it was. Being told, by the Bookseller, that it was The Secret Instructions of the Society, the good Father, shrugging up his Shoulders, and knitting his Brow, said, that he saw no other Remedy but denying that this Piece came from the Society. The Reverend Fathers however thought it more adviseable to purchase the whole Edition, which they soon after did, some few Copies excepted; from one of these it was afterwards reprinted, with this Account prefixed; which is there said to be taken from two Roman Catholicks, Men of Credit.
